Prez Sez

I hope you all find enough time to go to the field and enjoy what little time we have left for flying this season. I sometimes think with the number of members we have, why aren't there more guys out here flying? Why is that? It just seems to me with as many members that we have, on a nice day we should have more members flying. (Just a thought)

By the way the field is immaculate. Most of the corn is down, which makes it really nice for landings. (It also makes finding your plane much easier if it happens to go down)

Hope to see you at the field and the next meeting (9/13/12).

Paul (The R/C Nut)

The Saints Roster is current with the latest membership. You may note that we only have two more vacancies. It's been a long time since we have had a full roster. If you have friends interested in joining the Saints, let them know they should join ASAP. We may have to return to the old waiting list to accept new members next year. Also, joining now is only $35 and will assure the new member a place in the club next year with no waiting.
